A Note From The President

Hello, dear sisters in service! I want to extend my appreciation for your invaluable contributions to our newsletter. Each member's dedication and effort are truly appreciated. Even though we are halfway through the year, there are still many exciting opportunities ahead of us. I want to express a huge THANK YOU for supporting me as the LEADS candidate representing GFWC Georgia. I am eagerly looking forward to the 2024 GFWC Annual Convention in Chicago later this month, where I hope to gain insights to share with all of you.

Following our May meeting, I participated in a LEADS Zoom meeting with the GFWC Leadership and fellow LEADS candidates. I also visited Albany at the Hilton Gardens Inn, where I met with Cathy Jones the State President, Jennifer Stalvey the Director of Junior Clubs, Kitty Wise the State Meeting & Events Coordinator, and Jamie Stewart the State Leadership Chairman to discuss location logistics and plan for our GFWC Georgia Institute and state LEADS event in late August. I am thrilled about Institute and I hope to see everyone there!

Arts & Culture

We continue to work in the fundraiser for the Dosta Theatre. I have been all over Valdosta searching for donations. We have received gift cards, summer items for a basket, and a large fish art piece. The fish art piece is beautiful and I cannot wait for everyone to see it. We are currently looking for a venue to hold a silent auction. If you have a suggestion please let me know.

Make sure to go by the Turner Center for the Arts to view and vote on your favorite photos taken in around City of Valdosta and Lowndes County. Voting ends on July 18th,

Environment

We have received an update on Frank Sriracha!

"Enrichment is a crucial tool that we use with most our patients in the hospital. This can be anything from the way we feed our turtles to what we place in their enclosures. A great form of enrichment for our hatchling, Frank Sriracha, is broadcast feeding. This little turtle gets fed seafood gelatin, a blend of seafood, vegetables, vitamins, and unflavored gelatin (a well-balanced meal for a young sea turtle) as well as fiddler crabs. Whenever we feed this to Frank Sriracha, we scatter the food throughout the tank. This is incredibly important for our hatchling, because it teaches Frank Sriracha how to hunt and move around obstacles, and important survival skill for life out in the ocean."
