Newsletter of GFWC Azalea City Woman's Club

Member of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs (GFWC)

A Note From The President

There have been many activities to report on since the last newsletter. Our club had 8 members attend the 2024 GFWC Georgia Institute & LEADS conference in Albany, GA. We had lots of fun visiting with friends from all over the state as well as making new friends. So much information was gained from the weekend from great program ideas, updated online reporting, the release of our new plan of work with the 2024-2026 GFWC Georgia Yearbook, and so much more.

Our club also celebrated our 55th Anniversary! So many years of history and we still have two of our founding members, Avernell Rogers and Jeanette Coody. We celebrated with a reception with many eats, treats, and of course a cake. We pinned Avernell and Jeanette with their 55-year GFWC service pins. We also pinned new members Jasmin Conner and Collette Cormier with their GFWC member pins.

As we head into September, we are gearing up for our GFWC National Day of Service (GFWC NDS). GFWC NDS is a day in which all of GFWC come together to highlight an area of need, take action, and raise public awareness about its importance. This year's GFWC NDS issue of focus is food insecurities. On September 28th, Women's Clubs worldwide will be volunteering at local food banks and organizing food drives to raise awareness and advocate to end food insecurity.

Our club is holding a Food Drive for the Quola Soup Kitchen. We currently have 3 food collection drop-off locations and will continue to add more. We are collecting: jumbo or regular-sized canned vegetables, canned soup, canned fruit, pasta, rice, peanut butter, disposable bowls, plates, and cups, socks, washcloths, shampoo, soup, and personal hygiene items. Below are the locations of our drop-off boxes. Please keep checking our new website (<https://azaleacitywomansclub.org>) for additional sites.

Civic Engagement & Outreach

September is National Preparedness Month (NPM). NPM is an annual campaign to educate people on how to prepare for emergencies and disasters. FEMA's Ready Campaign (<https://www.ready.gov/>), aims to educate and empower Americans to prepare for and respond to all types of emergencies. Here are some simple steps to make your family and friends better prepared for an emergency

- Learn Your Risks & Responses - having a way to receive Emergency alerts is very important. You can get emergency alerts through NOAA Weather Radio, news on TV, and social media. Know which natural disasters can occur in your area. Also, know where the nearest shelters are and the appropriate evacuation routes for your family.
- Make A Plan - Sit down with your family and plan out what to do in an emergency. Include plans for children, seniors, disabled, and pets. You can go to Ready.gov/plan for information.
- Build a Supply Kit - A supply kit is vital for potential disasters. Pack food, First Aid Kit, water, flashlight, and pet supplies to last for at least three days without power. Ready.gov/kit has more information on building a kit.

The Time to Prepare is Now

Gather supplies for your family, pets and service animals.

- ✓ Food & water
- ✓ Medications
- ✓ Flashlights
- ✓ Chargers
- ✓ IDs & insurance documents

Update on our symbolically adopted sea turtle, Frank Sriracha!

Since Frank Sriracha will be released back into the wild, this is the last regular update.

"Frank Sriracha is almost ready to depart from the Georgia Sea Turtle Center! On September 16, 2024, this turtle received a pre-release exam. This exam is a chance for our veterinarian team to get a final assessment of the patient, as well as collect up-to-date photos, bloodwork, and measurements. Frank Sriracha also received a passive integrative transponder (PIT) tag. This is a microchip that is placed under the skin so if this turtle is ever encountered again, Frank Sriracha can easily identified. In the photo, our team is double checking that it is in working order and putting Frank Sriracha's identification number in our database.

If Frank Sriracha's bloodwork comes back normal, this turtle will soon venture into the Sargasso Sea! Due to the requirement of a boat for this release, Frank Sriracha's departure will not be public."

ACWC had plans to plant flowers with children at Westside Elementary School but we were rained out. The club donated 14 bags of potting soil and $100 for the school's Chicken Coop Expansion project. Member, Justin Jacobs, stayed and helped with a lesson on composting while sharing a treat with the class.

Health & Wellness

September is Suicide Prevention Month. Suicidal thoughts, much like other mental health conditions, can affect anyone. That is why it is important to raise awareness, shift public perception, spread hope, and share information with people affected by suicide. You can find the Five Action Steps that can help here:

This year's GFWC NDS issue of focus is food insecurity. On Saturday, September 28th, the Woman's Club around the world will be volunteering at local food banks and organizing food drives to raise awareness and to advocate to end food insecurity.
